

Invitation

Dear Prof/Dr./Mr./Ms.

Information display industry is one of the basic supporting industries of the electronic information industry. As the global display industry accelerating its manufacturing to China, the total investment in Chinese display panel industry is over one trillion RMB, and its annual investment maintains more than 200 billion RMB in recent years, which leads to the panel revenue increasing at double digits every year. With the TFT-LCD panel production capacity and revenue being the top one in the world, China has become the major manufacturing base for global emerging display panel and an important driving engine for the growth of global display industry. As the novel technology of 5G, artificial intelligent and driverless car are gradually going mature, display industry, as an important terminal of information interaction, will continue to lead the evolution and revolution of electronic information industry. Besides, the huge Chinese market will also help to boost global display industry.

2021 International Conference on Display Technology (ICDT 2021) will be held on May 30 to June 2, 2021 in Beijing Etrong International Exhibition & Convention Center. ICDT is one of the most important international conference sponsored by SID outside US, the first ICDT was successfully held in Fuzhou in 2017 followed by ICDT 2018 in Guangzhou, ICDT 2019 in Kunshan, ICDT 2020 in Wuhan with higher level, larger scale, and stronger international influence. ICDT attracted over 1000 display professionals around the world, of which there were 20%-30% overseas attendees. ICDT has become annual international display conference.

ICDT 2021 will be hosted jointly by the SID Beijing Chapter, SID Taipei Chapter and SID Hong Kong Chapter. It will be co-organized by BOE and SID China. As the operational entity of SID in China, SID China is dedicated to bridge international collaboration on academic research and technology development among universities and research institutes around the world. SID China devotes to introduce SID members and oversea display companies to work with Chinese display
